

The Plain Law Climb

Everyday law · adults, teens near 18 · 30 minutes · one screen, the free game, this page

For your homeschool table — a 30-minute lesson, zero prep. Open the free game on any screen and follow the five steps. Where a step says “the room/the group,” read it as your family; where it says “host,” that’s you.

1 · THE HOOK (3 min)

“You signed a contract this week — probably without reading it. Phone app? Lease? Click-through? What did you agree to?”

2 · PLAY TOGETHER (12 min)

Climb until the group meets a contract question and a rights question; pause on both. Read explanations slowly — plain English about law is the whole point.

Play together: the group votes before anyone clicks, and every explanation is read aloud — the explanation is the lesson.

3 · THE TALK (8 min)

1. Why do contracts protect the person who READS them?
2. What’s the difference between what’s illegal and what’s just wrong?
3. When is the right answer “get a lawyer” — and why is knowing that boundary a skill, not a defeat?

4 · SOLO CLIMB (5 min)

Five questions.

5 · THE TAKEAWAY (2 min)

“The law belongs to those who can read it.”

Homework: Actually read one agreement you’re currently inside — lease, warranty, terms of service — and bring back its strangest sentence.

THE TEACHING CREED

You are not the expert; the game is. Your job is to vote last, read aloud well, and ask “why?” one more time than feels natural. Celebrate wrong answers loudly — in here, wrong is where the lesson lives.

GENO — the GSU tutor you can talk to, free, 24/7 in 32 languages — can explain any answer a second way.
