

The World Climb

Geography · ages 8–adult, mixed-age friendly · 30 minutes · one screen, the free game, this page

For your homeschool table — a 30-minute lesson, zero prep. Open the free game on any screen and follow the five steps. Where a step says “the room/the group,” read it as your family; where it says “host,” that’s you.

1 · THE HOOK (3 min)

“Everything you’re wearing — where was it made? Check three tags. We’re all wearing a map.”

2 · PLAY TOGETHER (12 min)

Climb ten questions with a map or globe visible if you have one (a phone map works); finger-find every place the climb mentions — touch turns trivia into territory.

Play together: the group votes before anyone clicks, and every explanation is read aloud — the explanation is the lesson.

3 · THE TALK (8 min)

1. Why are most great cities on water?
2. How does geography decide what a country grows, sells, and fears?
3. Which place from today’s climb would you visit — and what would you ask the first person you met?

4 · SOLO CLIMB (5 min)

Five questions; the youngest players get the map duty.

5 · THE TAKEAWAY (2 min)

“Geography is the stage; history is the play.”

Homework: Trace one meal this week to three countries via its ingredients.

THE TEACHING CREED

You are not the expert; the game is. Your job is to vote last, read aloud well, and ask “why?” one more time than feels natural. Celebrate wrong answers loudly — in here, wrong is where the lesson lives.

GENO — the GSU tutor you can talk to, free, 24/7 in 32 languages — can explain any answer a second way.
